

README

We initially tested our program using a local host where multiple clients were using the same IP address. Only one computer was used at this time. At the very end, we used two computers to test. One computer was set to a local host which hosted the server, and the other connected to the same IP address as that server. We also tested on different Wi-Fi networks including uTexas Wi-Fi and Wi-Fi hotspots. Both computers ran Windows when testing.